

A Day in the Life of a Camper

My dad dropped me off at camp at 7:00 in the morning. I'm still pretty tired, so I get to relax for awhile. This is my morning free time where I can watch TV or play on the field, but today, my friend Alex is here, so I'm just going to talk to him and relax.

Now it's eight thirty and my counselor is getting our group together for stretching and warm-ups. Our group went around in a circle and we all introduced ourselves, so now I know everyone's names. That helps a lot 'cause I'm soooo bad with names!

Then, we play games. Today, we get to play my favorite game, Kickball! That comes right after Chain Link Tag. I'm also excited for rock climbing, but that's after lunch. Our games change every day, so I never really know what we're going to play.

After kickball, it's snack time. There are three snacks every day: Morning snack, afternoon snack, and last snack before our parents pick us up. After morning snack and afternoon snack, we get to watch TV and rest for a few minutes.

We have a couple more games before lunch. I've never played this game called Battleship before. We used blankets and pulled each other around like we were in the ocean, while playing dodge ball. It was cool!

Now it's lunch time! I don't like pulled pork, so I asked for a PB&J instead, but I'm definitely going to get seconds on Texas toast! That's my favorite!

Finally! It's time for rock climbing! Then, we get to play 4 square! I barely notice the time go by before it's time for our afternoon snack. Snack is ice cream sandwiches! Sweet! The second snack is always something cold.

Then, some more games. This time we play Basketball and Relays. Then, last snack. Then, free time again, while I wait for my dad to pick me up. Free time is good because I'm pretty tired from all the sports and games we played.

I wish I could stay with Alex, but my dad came before his. His dad works farther away, so he doesn't get picked up until 6. I'll get to see him tomorrow though. It's been a great day!

Curt